

Annual IGeLU-Conference in Madrid, September 2008

Call for Papers and Posters

IGeLU invites you to submit proposals for presentations and poster sessions at its 3rd annual conference in Madrid, Spain. The conference will take place from 7th to 10th September. Information and links are on the IGeLU website <http://www.igelu.org/>. The Madrid website is <http://igelu2008.csic.es/>.

PRESENTATIONS and POSTERS

DEADLINE FOR SUBMISSION:
TARGET FOR ACCEPTANCE:

30 June 2008
15 July 2008

Presentations: Conference sessions will be 60-90 minutes. Some sessions will include PWG business meetings and Ex Libris product updates and Q&A. Others will be devoted to user experiences and creative ideas. Proposals should allow for questions and discussions.

Poster Sessions: Posters will be displayed throughout the conference and there will be specific times allocated for discussion with the presenters of the posters.

Topics: We want to represent user experiences with all of the products so topics may cover any of them: Aleph and ARC, Voyager, SFX, MetaLib, Verde, DigiTool, and Primo. Besides product experience, proposals may cover the interactions between them or their interoperation with other systems. Topics could also have a wider bearing on the development of library and information systems. Areas of particular interest include:

- Innovative use of products
- Integration of products with each other or with external systems
- Experiences of latest releases of products
- Experiences with new products, e.g., VERDE, PRIMO
- Authentication and authorization, e.g., PDS, Single Sign On, Shibboleth
- Follow up to highlights of last year's meeting: <http://www.igelu.org/conference-2007>
- Work of IGeLU Focus Groups
- Usability/accessibility of interfaces
- Consortia issues
